

Barloworld Handling

The Advansys integrated MOTO module allows Barloworld to easily take orders over the phone as well as online, but at the same time control all of their orders via one single interface resulting in increased productivity and a faster turnaround.

Classic Cars Global

Classic Cars commissioned Advansys to build a high quality car portal where users can easily update and maintain their car adverts online. Since the launch of the website, Classic Cars have seen a phenomenal uptake of users with the added benefit of integrated RSS feeds and social book marking widgets to aid their users to continue to interact with each other.

Hiccup Gifts

Advansys has successfully integrated Hiccup Gifts into eBay via the eBay API allowing the ability to instantly list all of their products as a 'Buy It Now' product. The beauty of this integral solution is that all processes that would normally be completed on eBay are seamlessly controlled and executed via one single interface (the Advansys content management system) saving Hiccup valuable time and money.

Barefaced Beauty

The Advansys Single Page Checkout Module simplifies the traditional multi-step approach by combining all of the steps in one for new and existing customers. Since Advansys seamlessly added the module to their ecommerce website, Barefaced Beauty has seen a 60% higher conversion rate during the checkout process.
